

Econopolis Patrimonial Balanced Fund

Description of the fund

Econopolis Patrimonial Balanced is a compartment of Econopolis Funds SICAV, a UCITS fund under Luxembourg law. The fund aims to deliver a long-term return to investors via investments in other funds, ETF's, equity, bonds and monetary instruments, without geographical restrictions and without restrictions concerning sector or currency allocation. The fund is aimed at investors with an investment horizon of more than 5 years. SFDR classification: Article 8 Compartment.

Manager's comments:

The compartment experienced a flat month in volatile markets. December saw the leadership of the "Magnificent Seven" fade, giving way to sector rotation. This had already been partially anticipated through profit-taking in Alphabet, Apple and the technology sector more broadly. The rotation resulted in positive performance in both the cyclical part of the portfolios—particularly industrials and consumer stocks—and the defensive segment, such as healthcare. At the same time, the sell-off among so-called "AI losers" accelerated—companies whose business models are perceived (rightly or wrongly) as vulnerable to the rise of AI. Small positions in this segment, including RELX, Adobe and Wolters Kluwer, were further adjusted. The standout performer in the portfolio was Inditex, which rallied by no less than 17% following another set of excellent quarterly results, confirming its status as a global winner in apparel thanks to a superior business model in terms of supply chain, merchandising and operations. Following meetings in the US with management teams of dominant players in private assets (private equity and private credit), positions were initiated in Blackstone and Apollo. These companies are well positioned for a revival in deal flow due to lower interest rates, deregulation and increased risk appetite, while also continuing to grow strongly in private credit. Recent concerns about credit quality have created attractive entry opportunities. Within the bond component, exposure to US Treasuries (in dollars) was reduced. In exchange, investment-grade euro-denominated bonds issued by the French insurance and pension specialist Malakoff Humanis and the Belgian industrial group Sibelco were purchased at yields above 4%.

Risk Indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 5 years. The actual risk may vary significantly if you redeem the product early and you may get back less. The summarised risk indicator is a guide to the risk level of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely the product is to lose money due to movements in the markets or because we are unable to pay you out. We have classified this product as 3 out of 7, which is a medium-low risk class.

This classifies potential losses due to future performance at a medium-low level and poor market conditions are unlikely to affect our ability to pay you out. Be aware of currency risk. You may receive payments in a currency different from your reference currency, so the final return you receive will depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not included in the indicator above. The sub-fund is also exposed to the following materially relevant risks not included in the summary risk indicator: Other risk factors may exist. This product does not protect against future market performance, so you may lose all or part of your investment. If we are unable to pay you what you owe, you may lose your entire investment.

Objectives:

This objective is pursued by investing the sub-fund's assets directly or indirectly through mutual funds, including Exchange Traded Funds (ETF), in equities and fixed income instruments, as well as cash or other monetary instruments, without geographical limitation and without sector or currency restrictions. The sub-fund may invest more than 50% of its net assets through mutual funds, including Exchange Traded Funds (ETF). The individual weight of each asset class (equities, fixed income instruments and derivatives, as well as cash or other monetary instruments) may vary from 0 to 100%, depending on economic and market conditions and the manager's expectations and strategic views. The sub-fund may invest up to 50% of its assets in emerging markets instruments (i.e. instruments issued by entities or governments that have their headquarters or place of business or principal listing in emerging markets, defined as constituents of the MSCI Emerging Markets index).

For the purpose of implementing its main investment policy or investing its cash, the sub-fund may also invest up to a total of 49% in treasury bills, deposits, commercial paper and time deposits. Additionally, the sub-fund may hold cash sight deposits up to 20% of its assets. The sub-fund may invest in derivative financial products, including futures, options, forward foreign exchange contracts, credit default swaps or interest rate swaps, for the purpose of achieving its investment objectives and hedging risk. The sub-fund promotes environmental or social characteristics. This sub-fund is subject to a sustainable investment policy, which can be accessed at <https://www.econopolis.be/en/sustainability>. Additional information on sustainability is available in the fund's prospectus. Benchmark: The portfolio is actively managed on a discretionary basis without reference to a benchmark.
