Manager's commentary

The managers took profit on argenx, following the sharp price rise that came after the positive phase 3 results of the ALKIVIA study of Vyvgart in myositis, announced in mid-August. The freed-up funds were used, among other things, to add to UCB on weakness; the share had fallen back after the half-year results, while the commercial momentum of Bimzelx and the raised peak-sales expectation underpin the structural story. In addition, the managers built exposure to the recovery in automotive semiconductors. They took new positions in Melexis, which was able to present a supply agreement with Chinese electric-vehicle maker BYD, and in its important manufacturing partner X-FAB. The position in Elia Group was expanded, supported by the investment needs in the electricity grid. The managers divested KBC. The holdings in Kinopolis and Fagron were scaled back. In this way, the compartment remains strongly anchored in Belgian quality companies with a clear growth story.

Risk

For the risk indicator, it is assumed that you hold the product for 5 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you sell at an early stage and you may get back less. The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared with other products. It shows how likely it is that investors will suffer losses on the product because of market developments or because no money is available for payment. We have classified this product in class 4 out of 7; this is a medium risk class. This means that potential losses on future performance are estimated as medium and that the possibility that we may not be able to pay you because of poor market conditions may exist. Be aware of the currency risk. You may receive payments in a currency different from the reference currency, so the final return you receive depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. That risk is not taken into account in the indicator above. The compartment is also exposed to the following materially relevant risks that are not included in the summary risk indicator/ Other risk factors may exist. Because this product is not protected against future market performance, you may lose all or part of your investment. If we cannot pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment. Please consult the Product prospectus for more information on the risks.

Sustainability

This compartment applies a responsible investment policy based on four strategies : negative screening°, norms-based screening°, ESG integration°, and a best-in-universe approach in which only companies with strong ESG scores are selected. In addition, companies involved in controversial activities such as weapons production, tobacco and harmful oil and gas extraction are excluded. This compartment also actively uses its voting rights to promote sustainability and good governance. To learn more about this, you can consult this compartment's sustainable investment policy via link. If you wish to invest in this compartment, all of its sustainable characteristics and objectives must be taken into account.

Investment policy

The objective of the compartment is to offer investors, through an actively managed portfolio, long-term capital gains on their investment. This objective will be pursued by investing the compartment's assets principally in shares and other equity-type securities, with a geographical focus on Belgium. The compartment invests mainly in shares and other equity-type securities spread across different sectors. The compartment invests in shares and other equity instruments of companies with a geographical focus on Belgium. This Belgian geographical focus is achieved when at least one of the following criteria is met. The compartment may invest in (i) constituents of the Euronext BEL All-Share (BAS) index, (ii) companies whose head office or legal residence is in Belgium, and (iii) Belgian companies listed outside Belgium. The compartment may invest in shares and other equity-type securities selected on the basis of ongoing financial evaluations, analyses of the macroeconomic environment and the specific profile of the issuer, future developments, etc. There are no restrictions with regard to currencies or other specific economic or industrial sectors or niches. The investment manager's choices are discretionary in nature and reflect its expectations and strategic insight. The compartment's investment policy is based on an integrated approach in which valuation, quality and sustainability are important elements in equity selection. The manager conducts stock selection in a disciplined manner, taking internal and external research reports into account and developing internal valuation models that help determine whether a share offers potential. In addition, the manager also relies on internal and external sources for sustainability analysis. The compartment may also hold up to 20 % of its assets in cash deposits repayable on demand. Within the limits of the law, the compartment may invest in derivative financial products, including futures, options and forward foreign exchange contracts, to achieve its investment objectives and hedge risks. The compartment promotes environmental or social characteristics. A sustainable investment policy applies to this compartment and can be consulted at <https://www.econopolis.be/en/fondsen/fondsendocumentatie/>.
